

FACES FROM 2019 THE ROUNDTABLE

"The Roundtable has proven to be a unique event where numerous, diverse stakeholder groups are encouraged to share thoughts and ideas regarding the challenges and direction of damage prevention throughout the U.S. and beyond. The information, discussions, and networking opportunities offered not only assist with assessing our current state, but provide pathways toward growth and development of our safety, technical and service programs of tomorrow."

- Gerald Johnson, USIC

"I almost feel like one of the founding fathers trying to establish a republic for the people by the people!"

- Jim Dacey, NUCA Pennsylvania

"The Roundtable is the one event that brings all of the various stakeholders together to find out what is, what could be, and what should be, with respect to excavating and damage prevention within the underground infrastructure industry. This isn't a 'preaching to the choir' event. Each participant brings a unique history, past practices, and forward-looking ideas to the event and throws them out to the others for feedback, pushback and ah-ha moments."

- Dave Van Wy, JULIE

"The Roundtable is the one place you can go to engage in conversation with global experts in excavating, locating, damage prevention technology and damage prevention law."
- Fred LeSage, AXA XL
